

PROMOTING EXCELLENCE IN PATIENT CARE AND EDUCATION: A WELCOME MESSAGE

Associate Professor Dr Ahmed Al-Kuwaiti

The Association of Health Care Professionals (AHCP) is a not for profit healthcare membership Organization/Society, which has been in operation globally for many years. Due to demands from the UK membership for the association to be established in Britain, the AHCP is also a Company Limited by Guarantee in England and Wales.

The aim of the association is to promote excellence medical practice, research, patient care and education in society. Thus, its membership services include production of medical journals that are sent to its membership free of charge, proving membership activities like education, colleges and schools for its members and providing courses and conferences in advances, innovations, progress and challenges in medical practice and education in order to meet its aims and objectives. Its colleges include: Santa Maria College (SMC), International Academy of Medical Sciences (IAMS) and AHCP Education Academy.

The membership interest groups are International Academy of Medical Sciences and UK Healthcare Services, various associations, societies and groups addressing different topics in medicine, education and healthcare.

The AHCP Journals include: The International Journal of Medicine and Medical Innovations (IJMMI), Medical Law and Ethics Journal (MLEJ), European Journal of Medicine and Medical Sciences (EJMMS), International Journal of Surgical Methods of Human Diseases (IJSMD), International Medical Conference Proceedings and others.

The AHCP collaborates with other not for profit organisations in the Joint Community Projects in medical Services, research, education, innovation and developments.

The AHCP also runs various courses and conferences for the benefit of all members of the community. Therefore, the overall objective of the AHCP services is for the benefits of the community and the public at large.

With modern equipment and trained specialists at the AHCP Centers internationally, we are pleased to be able to welcome you to our practice. In the following pages you will get to know our doctors and the other members of the practice team. This is also where you will find all the important information about our consultation times as well as useful tips and services.

For more information about the work of the IAHCP, please visit our Website at: www.ahcp.org.uk

On Behalf of the members, staff, council, committees and Trustees of the IAHCP, I welcome you all to the IAHCP 28th Annual Scientific Meeting and Conference.
